HAPPENINGS

Of Interest Gleaned From the Columns of Our Valuable Exchanges.

Whether You Are Legitimately Married or Not May Depend Upon so Trifling a Matter as a Revenue Stamp.

The question has been sprung by E. E. Coyne, collector of internal revenue in Chicago, as to the legality of marriage, the certificates to which do not bear Uncle Sam's broad seal of approval in the way of a ten-cent revenue stamp. When the law first went into operation it was interpreted to mean, by Judges Griffith and Whippy, that stamps should be applied to certificates, the law plainly stating that all certificates "required by law," should bear a ten-cent stamp. Subsequently a ruling from the collector of the district abrogated this order, and certificates for the last six months have borne no stamps. It is known that the law requires a certificate from the clergyman or other officer performing a marriage ceremony, and this would seem to bring a marriage certificate directly within the intent and meaning of the law. The collector ruled otherwise, however, and our country authorities were content to abide by his decision. Collector Coyne, however, appears to have different views, and last week notified Justice Hall, of Chicago, that marriage certificates must bear a ten-cent stamp. Should this ruling be sustained by the department, and a marriage certificate held to be a legal document, many marriages will be so in name only, and not de jure. But we do not see why the document can not at once be made a legal one by attaching the stamp even at a latter date. All the marriage documents of the war of the sixties bear a stamp, as can be seen by reference to the marriage records of that date. Mr. Whippy, at our request, consulted the law on the subject yesterday. The paragraph bearing on the subject, says: "All certificates, required by law, must have placed upon them a revenue stamp of the denomination of ten cents." The result then hinges on the question as to whether or not a marriage certificate is a legal document—Clermont Courier.

KISSED MA, TOO.

Over in the west end of the county they are telling this story on two of our former candidates: Both happened on the same road a short distance apart: the hindmost one called at a certain house, where a bright little girl came to the door. "Sissy, will you please bring me a drink of water?" which she quickly did; then he gave her candy and said: "Did the man just ahead of me give you candy?" "Yes, sir." Then he gave her a nickel and said: "Did he give you money?" "Yes, sir, he gave me 10 cents." Then picking her up he kissed her and said: "Did he kiss you?" "Yes, sir, and he kissed me, too."—Mutual News.

DIDN'T MISS IT.

February had no new moon, but the learned gentlemen who handle matters of this sort have provided in their announcement two in March. This peculiar condition is due to the fact that this year of grace, the last of the century, is not counted a leap year. So February lost a day and consequently its new moon. A moonless month has not occurred since 1800 and will not occur again until some date far down in unborn time.—Xenia Gazette.

AN ENDLESS TASK.

An exchange tells that a young lady in a neighboring town dreamed one night recently that she died and when she asked admittance to the other world St. Peter gave her some chalk and told her to go along the walls of the city until she came to a blackboard, where she was to write her sins. On her way she met a friend who had always posed as a church member, and upon asking him where he was going he replied that he was "going after more chalk."—Ripley Bee.

NEW BAND AT LYNNBURG.

Members of the local lodge have organized a K. of P. band with sixteen members. Several new instruments have been secured and the boys are manifesting an interest that promises good results. A good band will benefit the town as well as the lodge. Speak a good word for the band.—Lynchburg Record.

NEWSTORY—OLD MORAL.

A traveling Arab struck the town plat about three weeks ago and went about the city selling table cloths and linen goods. Of the linen goods he only carried samples, and they were of excellent quality and very cheap. To get the linen goods, however, the purchaser had to buy a table cloth at a good price, which was delivered and paid for on the spot and the order was taken for the linen goods to be delivered later. The Arab finally left the city and his customers are still waiting for their linen goods and will in all probability continue to wait. The very cheap prices on those goods was evidently only a bait to sell the table cloths, which he sold in large numbers at good prices. The moral of the story is spend your money with the home merchants where there is no danger of being duped by misrepresentations.—Ironton Republican.

RATHER CANDID?

Perhaps Ruskin's blunt honesty of expression is nowhere better illustrated than in a letter written in reply to an appeal for help to pay off the debt on a chapel at Richmond.

BRANTWOOD, CONISTON, LANCASHIRE, May 10, 1896. SIR—I am sorely amused at your appeal to me, of all people in the world the precisely least likely to give you a farthing! My first word to all men and boys who care to hear me is "Don't get into debt. Starve and go to heaven, but don't borrow. Try first begging—I don't mind, if it's really necessary, stealing! But don't buy things you can't pay for!" And of all manner of debtors, pious people building churches they can't pay for are the most detestable to me. Can't you preach and pray behind the hedges—or in a sand-pit—or in a coal-hole—first? And of all manner of churches thus idiotically built, iron churches are the damnablest to me. And of all the sects of believers in any ruling spirit—Hindoo, Turk, Feather Idolators, and Mumbo Jumbo, Log and Fire Worshipers, who want churches, your modern English Evangelical sect is the most absurd, and entirely objectionable and unendurable to me! All of which they might very easily have found out from my books—any other sort of sect would! before bothering me to write it to them. Ever nevertheless, and in all this saying, your faithful servant,

JOHN RUSKIN.

It should be added that the recipient of the letter promptly sold it for ten pounds.

CHILDREN OF A LARGER GROWTH.

Why are prisoners always called boys? Just as soon as a man (he may be 70 years old) comes to prison they call him a boy. Why is this? The foregoing query has been propounded to me. They are called boys because when a man comes here, he becomes a child again; that is to say, he becomes subject to a parental discipline and guardianship. The warden becomes his father and the State his stepmother. His diet, work, sleep, morals and manners are regulated by those who have charge of him. His whiskers are taken away to give him as boyish appearance as possible; clothes are placed upon his back, a label upon his door, a seal upon his lips, an injunction upon his conscience and a paddle upon his canoe that he may be able to navigate his course safely among the rocks and shallows of prison life, and thus grow up to true manhood.—Penitentiary News.

DAN RICE HAD AMBITION.

It is impossible for the boys of today to understand the popular enthusiasm that Dan Rice's appearance aroused, says a writer in the Philadelphia Times. It is no exaggeration to say that he was one of the biggest men in the country. During one of the Presidential campaigns he had flying banners across Broadway bearing this legend:

For President,
Pennsylvania.

His agents laughed about it and used it as an advertising scheme, but the famous clown, whose head had been slightly turned by adulation, entered into the matter seriously. Even when his dream was dissipated he still strenuously persisted that at least he should be sent to Congress. Adam Forepaugh found him such an attraction that during the season of 1865 he paid him the sum of $25,000 to become an adjunct to the Forepaugh show. The following two seasons he received a salary of $27,500, which was the highest ever paid in the circus business.—Cleveland Leader.

SOME SAD WARNINGS.

Last week a delinquent subscriber said he would pay up if he lived. He died. Another said, "I will see you tomorrow." He's blind. Still another said, "I'll pay you this week or go to the devil." He's gone. There are hundreds who ought to take warning of these procrastinators and pay up now.—Finley (N. D.) Slope.

We are informed that the chances of D. Q. Morrow, of this county, receiving the nomination for Congress from this district at Wilmington April 5, are very bright. He will have the solid delegation from this county and with the outside support that seems likely to come to him should land the plum.

The fact that Louis Allman is a candidate for Justice of the Peace in Clay township would indicate that the Democrats of that ballwick are hard up for timber. Allman was convicted a few years ago for assault and battery and there are records in the Court House that probably would not aid in his election.

BROUGHT 'EM OUT!

Republicans Get Together in Force to Name the Winning Township, Corporation and School Board Tickets.

"Cousin George" Had a Walk-Over—Capt. Morgan for Clerk—Other Proper Selections and They Will Be Winners All.

The Republican Corporation Primary Saturday afternoon was one of the largest and most hotly contested ever held in Hillsboro. The polls were open from 4 to 7 o'clock and 664 votes were cast. The greatest interest centered in the contest for Mayor, and Geo. B. Gardner was nominated by an overwhelming majority. The following is the result:

Everything passed off quietly except for a slight wrangle over the selection of judges and clerks upon organizing. Thos. Head and Mather Scarborough had been agreed upon by the Anti-Saloon League and the regular organization, and an attempt was made to substitute other names but failed. Considerable amusement was also created by the challenging of several votes.

LIBERTY TOWNSHIP.

The Liberty township Republican primaries were held Saturday afternoon from 2 to 4, and while not as large a vote was polled as at the corporation election, over 400 votes were polled. The result was as follows:

DEMOCRATIC PRIMARIES.

Spencer McClure Nominated for Mayor—Sloanites in Full Control—Fraud Charged.

The Democratic primaries for the selection of candidates to fill out the corporation ticket this spring were held last Thursday evening. The Sloan gang had decided who should be nominated several days before, and while their selections were very unpopular with the rank and file of the party, it was the general impression that there would be no fight. At the last minute Isaac Larkin was prevailed upon by the better element in the party to be a candidate for Mayor. The Sloanites won, however, McClure receiving 105 votes and Larkin 102. But 204 people voted. Charges of fraud are freely made. The ticket selected is: Mayor, Spencer McClure; Marshal, Michael McMahon; Clerk, Clinton Doggett; Treasurer, Joseph Woodrow; Solicitor, L. R. Duckwall; Council, Chas. Parks, J. H. Wedding, Frank Hogsett.

L. R. Duckwall, who was nominated for Solicitor, has announced his withdrawal. He desired the nomination for Mayor, which was refused, and the gang gave him the Solicitorship to hold him in line for the ticket, as he is the leader of a very large element that is likely to a light most any old place.

The nominations for Mayor of Cincinnati would indicate that "the chosen" are as much so as ever. Possibly a little more so.

LYNNBURG

March 19, 1900.

Work was begun on the new platform at the depot Tuesday of last week. A much needed improvement.

Miss Grace Patterson is visiting in Wilmington.

Mrs. N. S. Pulse left Wednesday morning for Middletown, O., for an extended visit with her brother, Dr. O. A. Hopkins.

Mrs. Dr. O. A. Thompson, of Hillsboro, after spending five days with relatives here, returned home Wednesday.

Dr. W. E. Srofe and wife, of Farmer's Station spent two days last week with their parents, Dr. Srofe and wife, of this place.

Mrs. Frank Pfister and two children are visiting in Berryville.

A very quiet wedding took place at the home of John Bering on last Wednesday evening, March 14. The contracting parties were Miss Rosa Post and D. G. Seifritz. Rev. G. G. Clark officiated. The happy pair left on the afternoon train for Cincinnati, where they will spend a few days with the bride's sister.

Miss Susie Montgomery is the guest of her cousin, Mrs. H. M. McLean, in Covington, Ky.

Dr. Al West, of Sabina, was called to the home of his father, Owen West, on last Sunday, March 10, to treat his baby sister for croup pneumonia. Dr. West left for home Monday afternoon, leaving the little one much better, but Monday night it grew worse and Tuesday morning succumbed to the treacherous disease. Funeral services were held at West's Chapel Wednesday at 2 p. m. by Rev. John Wilson, of New Vienna, after which the little one was laid to rest in the family burying ground near the Chapel.

Mrs. Louisa Miller and son, Frank, are again to become residents of our village. Frank will rebuild the frame part of his mother's property on Main street and start a first-class bakery, which is very much in need of.

Miss Carrie Oester is the guest of friends in Newport, Ky.

J. L. Spicer, of the children's home at Cincinnati, will bring to this place on March 22 several small children for the purpose of placing them in homes of good families. He will also lecture in the M. E. Church the same evening. His theme will be "Oriental Side Lights on the Bible and Palestine." He will introduce four of our people dressed in Oriental costumes, representing an Arab sheik, a Lebanese princess, a shepherd boy and a woman of the Orient. He will also exhibit curiosities from different countries. Admission 20 and 15c.

Mrs. Mary Strange, of Hillsboro, was the guest of relatives here the past week.

Morrow & Leurance began an auction sale at their novelty store, Friday, March 16, and will continue each day until their entire stock is sold.

Arthur Blisler and wife have moved to Cincinnati.

Prof. Walter Wright was taken very suddenly ill last Thursday and is now at the home of his aunt, Mrs. Wiley Chadman, in a very critical condition.

If our city duds would only wake up to a sense of their duty and look after some of our almost impassable alleys, they would be doing credit to themselves and a great favor to others, who could then get from one street to another without wading in mud to their necks.

The Republicans of Dodson township nominated the following tickets subject to the spring election: Peter Baker, Justice of the Peace; J. W. Peale, Assessor; Alex. Spicard, Trustee, and Roy Miller, Clerk. Corpora and school district primaries: J. W. Henderson for Mayor; G. B. Miller, Marshal; W. A. Saylor, Clerk; Wiley Ruble, Treasurer, and D. A. Garner, Water and Light Trustee. For Council, 2 years; Samuel Griffin, J. R. Rizer and J. G. Bayless; for one year, J. L. Orebaugh. For School Board, Harley Hodson and Grant Hopkins. The W. C. T. U. have nominated Mrs. D. A. Garner and Mrs. H. N. Henderson for members of School Board.

The Democratic candidates are: Thomas Shaffer, Justice of the Peace; Joe Stroup, Assessor; A. A. Watkins, Trustee, and D. S. Simpkins, Clerk. Corporation school district: Mayor, H. S. Pulse; Marshal, Charles DuMont; Treasurer, James Brulport; Clerk, Walter Swartz. For Council, 2 years; Charles Pickrel, Charles Phillover and Al McDaniel; for one year, Ed M. Wiggins; for Water and Light Trustee, T. E. Moorehead; for School Board, C. C. Kelley and W. H. McClelland.

Mr. and Mrs. Kirby Manker were the guest of J. W. Arthur and wife in Hillsboro Sunday.

The withdrawal of Hon. Alexander Boxwell from the race for Congress gives Hon. Seth W. Brown the delegation from Warren county, and from indications the only candidates who now have a show to be nominated are D. Q. Morrow, of this city, and Mr. Brown. A strong effort by the Republicans of this county will aid materially in securing Mr. Morrow's success.

REPUBLICAN TICKET.

One of the Best Ever Presented to the Voters of Hillsboro and Liberty Township.

It Has the Sincere Indorsement of All Good Citizens and Will Be Elected by an Overwhelming Majority.

Seldom has a ticket been nominated that gives such universal satisfaction as the one selected by the Republicans of Hillsboro last Saturday. Democrats and Republicans alike unite in indorsing the wisdom of the voters. Every candidate from Mayor to the Sealer of Weights and Measures has the respect and confidence of the community. Its election is a foregone conclusion.

The people of Hillsboro are determined to have good government and an enforcement of the law. They have spoken in no uncertain tones. That they will speak again in the same way on April 2d is as sure as death. The Republican ticket stands for good government and an honest enforcement of the laws of Ohio and ordinances of the village. On this issue and this alone were they nominated. They are under no obligations to the saloon and gambling element for their nomination, and will not be for their election.

The old soldiers have every reason for satisfaction as the three best officers were to them. Geo. B. Gardner, the candidate for Mayor, needs no introduction to the voters of Hillsboro. They have known him for years. His honesty and integrity has never been questioned, and his long and useful public and private life is an open book that all may read. In the War of the Rebellion he was a gallant soldier and has a record to be proud of. It is useless to go further as the enormous vote he received at the primary speaks more than columns of praise.

For Marshal, James G. Lyle, the veteran policeman, is also an old soldier. For twenty-five years he has been on the force in this city. In that time he has handled hundreds of desperate and dangerous men. His courage has often been tested. He seems not to know the meaning of fear. To this added is a cool head. The people know him as a brave, fearless officer and no others need apply while he retains his health and vitality.

Capt. W. J. Morgan, the Republican candidate for both Corporation and Township Clerk, is the other veteran of the Civil War. He was a resident of Virginia when the war broke out and a very wealthy man. His sympathies were with the North and he joined the Union Army, serving nearly four years. His estate was often fought over by the armies of both sides, and when peace was declared his once handsome fortune had disappeared, but the Union was preserved. For years he has been a resident of Hillsboro and enjoys the respect of all, irrespective of party. As a Republican he was always loyal to the ticket and earnest in its support. His election is a certainty and by a larger majority than at the primary. More could not be asked.

Joseph W. Watts, for Solicitor, was the unanimous choice of all Republicans. He is a young attorney of ability and will give the office an excellent administration.

For Council, E. T. Sanderson, W. E. Smith and James Newell were selected. None stand higher or will give the affairs of the city more careful attention. Mr. Smith and Mr. Sanderson are both candidates for second terms. Mr. Newell is not as well known, having never aspired for an office in Hillsboro before. At one time, however, he was Infirmary Director for the county and made an excellent official. All are good Republicans and excellent citizens and should and will receive the support of all good Republicans.

Chas. D. Johnson, who will be the next Treasurer of Hillsboro, is also a young man and a hustling Republican. His experience as book-keeper in the Farmers and Traders Bank eminently qualifies him for the position to which he aspires. He will be elected.

George Mauntel, candidate for Water Works Trustee, is an upright respected young man and a first-class mechanic. He is a tinner by trade and has been in business for years in this city. A Republican from principle he has always supported that ticket. He has never been a candidate for office before, but his standing as a private citizen makes his election a certainty.

For Sealer of Weights and Measures David L. Jolly, a young man and a soldier of the Spanish War, was selected. He is a sterling Republican. His selection is fitting climax to an unusually strong ticket, and one that recognizes the soldiers of two wars.

For Township Trustee, C. N. Roads, a substantial and well known farmer, adds strength to the ticket. This is an important office and one that requires men of good judgment and strict honesty to fill. Mr. Roads meets every requirement and should receive the full vote of his party, as he has always been a straight Republican.

C. C. Shade and R. L. Jolly, candidates for Constables, have both made excellent officers and should be re-elected. Their record and services are well known and better testimonials could not be offered. Give them your votes.

For Assessors, John W. Arthur and Wm. Thomas had no opposition for renominations. The acceptable manner in which the duties of these previously performed by them insures their re-election.

A CRY FROM NATURE.

A Warning That Should Be Heeded by Every Sufferer.

Nature soon rebels when the human machinery is out of order. Her appeals for help should be quickly answered. Life is too short and dear to us to neglect our health.

When the system becomes rundown, the blood impure, the liver torpid, nerves all on a quiver, and the stomach refuses to do its work, then nature utters her warning note. It may be a sick headache, nervousness, dyspepsia, catarrh, loss of appetite, insomnia, languor, constipation, but it is nature's signal of distress.

The human machine should be attended to without delay.

The system needs building up, the impurities must be driven from the blood, the liver made to do its work and the stomach placed in a natural, healthy condition.

Knox Stomach Tablets are a new combination of vegetable remedies compounded by one of the best chemists in the world; and are guaranteed to build up the whole system. They do not act as a stimulant, but are a Sarsaparilla in a tablet form, containing twice the medicinal properties of any other combination of remedies known. They give health and strength to the entire body and immediate relieve indigestion and positively cure dyspepsia.

A single box will prove their power to cure chronic invalids and make them strong, healthy men and women. If unable to secure Knox Stomach Tablets of your druggist, send fifty cents to the Knox Chemical Co., Battle Creek, Mich., and a full sized package will be sent, postpaid.

For Homeless Children.

Mr. Charles W. Warner, of Portsmouth, O., has been in the city for some days in the interests of the Ohio Children's Home Society, one of the State's most deserving of charitable institutions, and one that has found homes for thirty of Highland county's orphans.

This organization makes a specialty of seeking good homes in private families. There is an auxiliary society chartered in 23 States, and the president of the Ohio Society is none other than President Wm. McKinley. It is supported by voluntary donations and membership fees. The latter are, active, $1 yearly; life, $25, payable $5 annually for 5 years; patron, $50; benefactor, $100.

If any of our readers know of children wanting a home or of a family desiring to adopt a child and do not happen to meet Mr. Warner, they can notify the State superintendent, Dr. F. H. Darby, 38 West First Avenue, Columbus, O., and the society will do the rest. It is greatly to be hoped that Mr. Warner will not find Hillsboro slow to respond to this noble charity.

Resolutions of Respect.

At the regular meeting of the Hillsboro Grange No. 145 P. of H., March 14th, 1900, the following resolutions were adopted:

Whereas, By a dispensation of an All Wise Providence it was His will to call our worthy and esteemed brother, Geo. W. Holladay, from his terrestrial to his celestial abode.

Resolved, That while we bow in humble submission to His will, we mourn as a fraternity the great loss we have sustained which created a vacancy never to be filled. He was an active and zealous worker in our lodge and never forsook his duty.

Resolved, That our heartfelt sympathy be hereby extended to the loved ones left behind and that a copy of these resolutions be sent to them and the county papers.

Resolved, That in token of his memory that our charter be draped in mourning for a period of thirty days.

A good many persons are not cognizant of the provisions of what is known as the Davis law relative to child labor. The law was passed April 18th, 1898, the first section being as follows:

"Be it enacted by the General Assembly of the State of Ohio, that no child under the age of thirteen years shall be employed in any factory, workshop, mercantile or other establishment, directly or indirectly; and no boy under fifteen years of age, and no girl under sixteen years of age, shall be employed at any work performed for wages or other compensation, or in assisting any person employed as a wage-earner, when the public schools in which district such child resides are in session, providing this act shall not apply to females working at household work."

COMMON PLEAS COURT

Number of Important Decisions Handed Down the Past Week by Judge Newby.

Judge Walters Decides that a Private Citizen Can Not Compel a Public Official to Perform His Duty—New Cases.

In the case of the NEWS-HERALD vs. the County Commissioners, to compel them to publish their report in papers of opposite politics as required by law, Judge Walters rendered a decision Monday sustaining the demurrer of the Commissioners on the ground that plaintiff did not have the legal right to sue. According to this if an official refuses to do what the law says he shall, the Prosecuting Attorney and Attorney General are the only ones who can bring suit to compel the performance of their official duties. The decision, as will be seen, is on a purely technical point. The claims of the NEWS-HERALD were based upon facts and remain correct. The decision of the court in no wise reflects upon the justice of our claims. It is merely admitting that under existing legal technicalities we have no right to complain when we see that particular law violated.

In the suit of the Lyle Printing Co. against the County Commissioners for supplies furnished the county officials, Judge Walters decided that the bills were illegal and that the officials were personally liable. The Commissioners had not ordered the supplies and were not bound by any act of the other officials.

Judge Newby held court several days last week and the following cases came up for hearing:

Barbara Mozler, exec vs. M. Maher, Dismissed for want of prosecution.

James M. Hutchins vs. E. J. Waddell, Dismissed.

Reuben Asher vs. George Gantz et al, Dismissed.

Loren D. Clevenger vs. David Brakefield, Dismissed.

Thomas J. Wiley vs. Lewis E. Storier, Dropped from docket.

Jason Polk vs. John J. Rollins. This was a suit for $1 and was tried several weeks ago. Judgment for defendant and plaintiff taxed the costs.

Nancy E. Shoemaker vs. Grace Shoemaker et al. Leave given plaintiff to make N. P. Cloyburn, Anna Slonaker and L. N. Shoemaker parties defendant.

Sallie Lewis vs. Peter Lewis, Dismissed.

Mary Emma C Burgess vs. John M. Grim et al. Judgment for defendant. Thos Hopkins vs. Silas Sanders, Leave given plaintiff to amend petition in thirty days.

Sallie M. Boyer vs. Mary Ramsey et al. Writ of petition issued and premises ordered sold.

Maud Delph vs. R. C. Delph administrator. Leave given defendant to answer in twenty-six days.

Mary C. Skeen vs. Carey Skeen, Dismissed.

Mary S. Quinn vs. William A. Douglass, executor, etc. Motion for new trial overruled.

Grace A. Powell vs. Frank Free, agent for the German Insurance Company. Suit on policy for damages, Settled in full for $
